

WESTERN FIELD ORNITHOLOGISTS

Youth Scholarship Application

Western Field Ornithologists is an organization of amateur and professional field ornithologists that promotes the study of birds throughout western North America. The organization strives to increase knowledge, appreciation, and protection of birds and their habitats through annual meetings, field trips, and publications (primarily Western Birds).

Scholarship Name: 44th Annual Conference, Albuquerque, New Mexico
August 21–25, 2019

Description: The annual WFO conference is a four day event that includes scientific presentations, workshops, field trips, experts' sounds and visual identification panels, and social activities. The conference offers the opportunity for motivated youths to meet those who earn their living and/or volunteer in field ornithology, bird conservation, biology and other distinguished fields.

Included: Most expenses and fees associated with the annual conference, including: registration fees; a full-day field trip for both Thursday and Sunday (as space allows); box lunches for the full day field trips; a morning field trip and/or workshop for both Friday and Saturday morning; two tickets to the banquet for the recipient and a family member; and up to four nights hotel accommodations at the conference center, including breakfast for one person [please note that a double room will be reserved for those attending with family member(s)].

Not Included: Conference merchandise or registration fees for family members are not included (registration not required for family members solely attending as chaperones). Any and all travel expenses, including any form of transportation to or from the WFO event location, travel planning, flight or rental booking, etc., that may be incurred by the applicant are not included under this scholarship.

Submittal Deadline: April 14, 2019

Notification of Award: April 21, 2019

Limitations: Although all applications will be reviewed, preference is given to applicants who are not prior WFO youth scholarship recipients. Up to eight youth scholarships are being offered to youths between the ages of 12 to 22, with six scholarships for youths in Grades 6 through 12, and two scholarships for collegiate youths working towards a Bachelor's degree. Applicants must be residents of western North America (from the Rocky Mountain states and provinces to the Pacific, including Alaska, Hawaii, western Texas and northwestern Mexico).

Membership: Membership with WFO is required for the application to be considered. If not a member, the applicant MUST apply before or at the same time the application is submitted. Student membership is available for $10/annually: <https://www.westernfieldornithologists.org/join.php>
